

Mrs. Lightner's News

Hello Parents!

April 2, 2018

I hope you were able to enjoy the long holiday weekend! We are heading straight into spring and continuing to prepare for the MAP Test. I will be sending home some more information about testing for you to have as a parent! Please continue to review skills with your child as the weeks go on! All of this review will help solidify some of the information before testing!

In math this week, we will finishing up our unit data and moving on to complete some review of different concepts that will be on the MAP test like addition/subtraction, fractions, time, and area/perimeter. I am hoping that by covering all these topics, we will have a better understanding of how to answer some MAP test questions. In reading, revisiting main idea. We are going to start discussing antonyms this week. In spelling, we will be working on plural nouns and what endings we should add.

Please email me with any questions, comments, or concerns anytime at milightner@odessar7.net.

Spelling Words

inches
dresses
classes
colors
branches
things
buses
tracks
flags
pies
bushes
apples
benches
brushes
drums

Shout Outs

Keep working on those reading and
math skills at home!

Some websites to practice on are

Sheppardsoftware.com

Roomrecess.com

Important Information

-We do have school on Friday, April 13th.

-April 12th: Mid-quarter

-April Book Orders due on Monday, April 23rd.