

Miss Nolan's News

Hello Parents!

September 5, 2017

Your students are well on the way to having a fantastic year in third grade! We have been working on practicing following expectations in all areas of the school including the hallway, the restroom, small group time in our classroom, and during Daily 5 time in reading! Your students are rocking and rolling!

This week in reading, we have been practicing what Daily 5 should look like during reading. Daily 5 is a reading structure that is used in our classroom. During Daily 5 time, students have a choice between five things. They can choose to read to themselves, read to someone else, work on writing, or complete word work with that week's spelling words. Students have gotten a lot of time to practice all of these strategies that they can use during daily 5 time. Feel free to ask them what they did during reading each day (they should be able to tell you)!

In math, we we will be wrapping up our place value unit and then moving on to addition and subtraction. In the next few weeks, students will practicing putting their knowledge of place value to the test when it comes to adding and subtracting numbers.

In the month of September, we are beginning to send homework with your students. Please make sure to fill out your child's reading log nightly with how many minutes/pages your child read. This log is located in your child's Take Home folder. There are also weekly math homework pages that should be checked over.

Please let me know if you have any questions, comments or concerns!
